

14 CANDIDATES VIE FOR SIX TOWN OFFICES

Eight Independents and Six Democrats Named on Ballot

DEMOCRATS STAGE FIRST LOCAL EFFORT

For the first time in history Democrats of Antioch township have essayed to challenge the G. O. P. right of rule in the town and have placed a full slate of candidates on the township ballot for approval or disapproval by the voters at the annual election Tuesday, April 4.

The Jeffersonians, with the November landslide still fresh in their memories, and encouraged by recent victories in many parts of the country are anxious to test their strength locally against the Republican candidates who filed as independent candidates.

Six to Elect

With eight independent candidates filed, and with six aspirants on the Democratic side of the ballot, the contest for the six elective offices is being watched with somewhat avid interest by local political railbirds, who have waited a lifetime to see Democrat arrayed against Republican in the township which not long since was considered one of the banner G. O. P. strongholds of the state.

Heading the list of candidates on the independent column on the ballot is the name of C. F. Richards, veteran town clerk, who has kept the town records for nearly two decades. His Democratic opponent is Lester Nelson, Antioch painter and decorator and junior member of the firm of Van Der Linde & Nelson. Nelson was active in the cause of Democratic candidates in the last election.

Woman Candidate on Ballot

Ernest L. Simons, assessor, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Harold Gelstrup, and later elected to the office, is again a candidate for re-election. He is opposed by Mrs. Catherine Doyle of Channel Lake. For many years Mrs. Doyle has been active in civic affairs and is well known in this locality. She and her husband conduct the Ken-Doyle hotel at Channel Lake. She is the only woman candidate on the ballot.

Five aspirants seek the office of justice of the peace, with two to elect. The independent candidates are Samuel E. Tarbell, incumbent, who has held the office for 12 years, and points to his record as sufficient reason for preferment at the polls.

The second independent candidate to file for this office is William Hatendorf, vice president of the Young Peoples Republican Club of Lake county, and an active worker in the 1932 campaigns.

Third on the list of independents for justice of the peace is Richard T. Corrin, whose friends believe a business man should be placed in this important office. Corrin is a partner with Richard Allner in the Antioch Sales & Service garage and sales agency.

Two Democrats for Justice

William Regan, incumbent, is again a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket. Regan's friends point to the fact that the candidate is well qualified and that his services as justice of the peace have been satisfactory. Regan's running mate is Carl Anderson, present constable whose term expires this year. The latter proved to be a good vote getter in his race for constable four years ago.

Five Seek Constable Job

The race for constable also presents an array of five entrants, with two to elect. The independent candidates are James Caple, ex-service man, who is employed on the Ackerman estate developments at Channel Lake; James Webb, genial attendant at the Antioch Oil Company; and Walter Chinn, who has been night watchman in Antioch for the past two years.

The Democratic entrants for constable are George McNulty, Channel Lake man, who enters local politics for the first time, and Frank Masino, proprietor of the Lakes Center Laundry service in Antioch and who came near landing the constable job four years ago. Masino has had considerable police experience as a special deputy sheriff in Lake county.

Caucus Picks Slate

The Democratic candidates were chosen by caucus some weeks ago and the number was limited to the actual number of vacancies occurring, thereby making it possible for

Plans are now being completed for the March meeting of the 8th District of Lake County of the American Legion, to be held at the Legion Headquarters, 21 North Sheridan Road, Highland Park, on the evening of March 16. The committee in charge, headed by H. A. Hansen, past commander of Highland Park Post, are arranging for a splendid program including a speaker in the person of "Curly" Brooks. The program will also consist of a community sing, a number of vocal and instrumental selections with refreshments, and dancing as a finale.

The Highland Park Post Drum and Bugle Corps under the leadership of Comrade Suttie is expected to take part by heading a short parade through the business streets preceding the meeting, and also to take part in the program later in the evening.

All members of the Legion and Auxiliaries in the district are extended a cordial invitation to attend. It is the hope of the district commander, Ben Hook, to make this meeting the outstanding event of the Legion year.

Commemorate National Founding with Party Monday

Thirty-two girls of the Lone Star Scout Troop and their leader, Mrs. G. E. Phillips, commemorated the birthday of their national organization Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Grimm, who was hostess to the party.

Scout wishes were made as the candles were blown out. Games were played and a supper served before the candle lighting. Cakes and chicken sandwiches were included in the generous meal which was prepared by Mrs. Grimm and her daughter, Miss Ardyne Grimm.

voters who wish to vote the straight Democratic ticket to do so by simply marking the circle at the head of the ballot. Since the independent candidates were placed on the ballot by petition, and there are more candidates for two of the offices than there are vacancies occurring, the circle is not used on the independent side of the ballot. Voters will therefore be required to mark in the square preceding the name of all independent candidates for which he wishes to vote.

VILLAGE FILING ENDS WITH 19 IN RUNNING

Naber Leads on Jeffersonian Ticket Filed by Democrats

With the filing of a full "Jeffersonian" ticket by the Antioch Democrats' Club Tuesday night, nineteen candidates will be balloted on for village office in the election to be held April 18.

Bernard Naber, former township supervisor, as candidate for village president, leads the Jeffersonian ticket put up by the Democrats. Frank Hunt, John Horan, Frank Harden, Frank Huber and G. E. Phillips, will be his running mates on the ticket for the remaining village offices. Hunt, Horan and Harden are candidates for trustee positions on the board, Huber for the village treasurer, and Phillips for police magistrate.

Surprise to Morley

It was learned this morning that the Democrats' ticket was floated by the club without the knowledge or consent of William H. Morley, Democratic chairman of precinct No. 2. Mr. Morley states that the ticket was a complete surprise to him.

Lotus (Mrs. Earl) Somerville and Marjorie (Mrs. Delain) Rigby, the only two women candidates filing for candidacy in the election, appear on the Jeffersonian ticket as candidates for the library board.

Heated Fight for Magistrate

A heated fight is promised for the office of police magistrate with two independents besides the citizens' and Jeffersonian candidates announcing for the candidacy. Phillips is opposed by J. C. James (Incumbent) candidate on the citizens' ticket and John Pacini and Thomas Burdette, filing as independents.

James Stearns, running for H. P. Lowry's place on the board, and Laurel Powles, candidate for treasurer, are the only candidates on the citizens' ticket who are not running for re-election. George Bartlett appears on this ticket for re-election to the office of village president, J. B. Drom and Charles Lux for re-election to the office of trustees, and G. A. Whitmore and Dr. R. D. Williams for re-election as directors of the library board.

School Board Filing Is Quiet; 2 Entered

Little interest has been shown so far in the school election to be held Saturday, Apr. 8 for the election of members to each of the school boards. Petitions have been filed with the clerk of the Township High School Board, for Mrs. Lester Osmond and George White, both candidates to succeed themselves.

No candidates have filed with Arthur Hawkins, clerk of the Grade School Board, but a petition is now being circulated by S. E. Pollock, president of the board, who will run again. The office of president expires every year. Mr. Hawkins stated this morning that an effort will be made this evening to start some petitions circulating for candidacy to fill the two vacancies occurring this spring.

George White, president of the High School board, has held that position since 1927. Mrs. Osmond has served on the board less than the full three year period, having filled out the unexpired term of Mr. Osmond who resigned two years ago.

Waukegan Wins Tourney; Locals Lose to Evanston

Waukegan cagers emerged victorious from the district high school tournament held last week-end in Libertyville, in which Antioch was eliminated in the second round by Evanston, finalists playing against Waukegan. Antioch's defeat in the second round came to the score of 51 to 16.

Antioch eliminated Waukegan in the first tournament game Thursday night which ended with the close score of 13 to 17. The game was close from the start, the score at the half reading 7-6.

In the game against Evanston, the score was near a tie at the end of the first quarter, but the latter team rapidly piled up its lead when three Antioch players were eliminated for committing personal fouls.

It was later established that the car they were driving was stolen, as the sheriff's suspected. Yirek confessed that he had served a prison term in San Quentin, Cal., for grand larceny.

It is intended to be used only at such times as the siren cannot be readily sounded through the telephone company.

Directors of the First National Bank of Waukegan last night applied to the Secretary of the Treasury for a conservator to take charge of the bank. The request was made in a telegram sent to Secretary William H. Woodin, in Washington, D. C., by Charles N. Steele, who announced that the step was taken because a certificate to reopen had not been issued by the government.

Steele and the directors agreed, Steele said, that the request for a conservator was the best action for the city as a whole. It would provide banking facilities, he explained, and allow the resumption of business.

AS OTHERS SEE US

Interesting and amusing at the present time is the picture of our United States which is being presented by newspapers abroad. In England several weeks ago a Sunday paper announced the startling facts to its readers that our automobiles are drawn by horses because we cannot afford to buy gas, that currency is being printed on wood because paper is so costly, that a wave of suicides is spreading over the land—that, in short, these United States harbor little but devastation and stark want.

Seeing ourselves as we are pictured to our neighbors, we find reality in contrast, sanely comforting.

"OUT OF EVIL"

"Out of evil, something good must come" a recent editorial writer has reminded his readers, and out of that belief and the encouraging news that at last "something is being done" has grown an optimism the last week which has been unrivaled during the past year. Business leaders throughout the country are expressing a confidence that the long heralded turn in the road has been reached, and are girding themselves for renewed activity. Within a period of days, the banking situation has been shifted from a precarious position to one, which if present measures are carried through, promises to be a permanently sound basis.

For the first time in a number of years we find our governing officials, acting and not stalling. The strides taken during the past few days have been marked by determination and not deliberation. The treasury has taken a firm hold on the banking situation. Regulations to apprehend hoarders, are being drawn up. In Chicago, $9,000,000 in gold was turned in Tuesday. Banks are being opened following the holiday slowly under a comprehensive and constructive program.

President Franklin Roosevelt has struck while the iron was hot, and won a confidence and co-operation from his associates and the people which is amazing in view of the period of time in which it has been accomplished. His far reaching legislative program has won immediate consideration from the house and the senate.

Following the wool gathering session of the lame duck congress, the present activity of our national law making bodies is refreshing. In the midst of the political fervor, business resumes, finds the outlook cheering, the horizon brighter.

Hickory Home Has Sunday Callers

Russell Hunter attended a birthday supper Thursday evening at the home of his friend, Clayton Bartlett, of Antioch.

Marjellen King was ill with the flu last week.

Alfred J. Pedersen made a business trip to Kentucky and back last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hollenbeck were Waukegan visitors Thursday.

The Protine and Paulsen children are getting better.

Mrs. Frank Edwards and Mrs. Eva Alling of Millburn called on friends in this neighborhood Thursday afternoon.

Miss Grace Tillotson was a Kenosha visitor Thursday.

Miss Lois Hunter of Antioch was home over Sunday.

Scrapbook Is Pastime for Child on Days of Rain and Sickness

Making a scrapbook is a fascinating pastime for the sickroom and rainy days when it's difficult to keep the children amused and no one has time to amuse them. Children from four to ten will especially enjoy the scrapbook, and often older children will become just as absorbed in it.

It is well to make the scrapbook, or several scrapbooks, and have them on hand for emergency. Bright kinkham or embleme may be used for the material. The material is torn into oblongs from 15 to 12 inches by 8 to 11 inches, and each oblong hemmed on the machine. The oblongs are then laid one on another, stitched and folded together through the center, and then closed like a book. Pressing will improve the appearance of the scrapbook.

The small boy or girl who is to have the fun of making it an interesting scrapbook, should have magazines from which to cut pictures, a pair of shears, paste, and plenty of papers spread about him so his cutting and pasting will not leave a clutter which will take more than a few moments to clear up when he is through. Often he'll find more pleasure in his scrapbook if you suggest he make it a Christmas "white gift", or a gift to a children's hospital or orphanage.

String Rises to Ranks of Fashion This Summer

The common variety of grocery string has taken a sudden rise in the world and blossomed forth in the smart guise of the "latest in belts, sweaters, hats, bags, and even shoes. The fad for string bedspreads has grown among Antioch matrons during the past several months. The crocheting of novelty accessories of wearing apparel will perhaps be as much of a fad before the summer is over.

String shoes, more difficult to picture than the other articles, are loosely woven in a natural shade, and in a sports shoe design. Obviously they cannot be produced in a "made at home" version. The string belt is woven or crocheted, as is also the bag. String hats and sweaters have a smart summer air.

Galiger Wins Prize on Farm Project Essay

Bertrand Galiger, Senior at Antioch High School, won fifteenth place in the Drovers Journal Contest for students in vocational agriculture. Bertrand's essay which was published in the Drovers Journal, is printed below.

I entered the Antioch Township high school, enrolled in vocational agriculture, and began my breeding sheep project in the fall of 1929. I have completed the third year of this project, and have entered my fourth. During this time I have made considerable increase in the size and quality of my flock. This year my show winnings consisted of one grand championship, nine firsts, and five seconds, as well as four lower place winnings. I also received the Thomas E. Wilson award for the best meat animal project in Lake county.

I selected this project because I liked sheep and thought that a flock of breeding sheep would turn waste pasture into another source of income.

I began this project by investing $25 in a purebred Shropshire ewe. This did not breed that fall so the next spring I pastured her with a neighbor's flock. Here she soon bred to a scrub buck. Twin lambs were born that fall. This made it impossible to have her lamb the following spring. This year (1932) she raised three good purebred lambs.

In the spring of 1931 my agriculture instructor, C. L. Kutil, and I visited the Miles flock at Evansville, Wisconsin. I purchased an excellent ewe that had been bred to one of his best bucks. This ewe had a very good type ewe lamb. In the County 4-H Club exhibit, this lamb won first in her class and was reserve champion of the show. The following week I showed her at the Central State exposition at Aurora and won first in both the club classes. Later I showed her at the Antioch Country fair and won another first. My bright hopes for this lamb ended when I found her dead in the pen shortly after the Antioch fair. We were not able to determine the cause of her death.

Purchases More Ewes

In the fall of 1931, to increase my flock to more than four animals I purchased three more aged ewes, one yearling, and one ewe lamb. Through this deal I also secured the use of a fine show buck. I bred the seven aged ewes to him. One ewe died from grub in the head. The remaining six produced 11 lambs. Three of the 11 lambs were singles and were so large that they died at birth. The ewe which I purchased from W. O. Miles was the mother of one of these lambs. She cast her withers, became infected and died from blood poisoning.

The remaining eight lambs grew well on the following rations: Choice alfalfa hay fed liberally, 20 pounds cornmeal, 10 pounds of ground oats, 10 pounds of ground barley, 10 pounds of meal.

I showed a pen of these lambs at the Illinois State Fair while attending the Boy's State Fair school to which I was Lake county delegate. My pen won between 10 and 15th place in a ring of 34. The following week I entered three lambs at the county 4-H club exhibit. The ewe and the ram placed first. My wether took fourth. I also won second in showmanship.

Later my stock was trucked to the Junior Fair of Northern Illinois. Here in the 4-H classes, my ewe lambs placed first and second. In the F. F. A. classes, besides winning third on a ewe lamb, fourth on a wether lamb, and fifth on an aged ewe, I had a ram lamb, a ewe lamb, and an aged ewe which won first in their respective classes. In this large show I again placed second in showmanship.

Profit Shown

My 1931-1932 financial summary is as follows:

Income
Amount sold, used and premiums	$75.00
Increase in inventory	23.00
Total	$98.00
Expenses:
Labor Cost	$16.75
Feed Costs	49.02
Other expenses	27.99
Total	$93.74

Tests to be held at Walworth this week. Wilmot will play the first game with Williams Bay on Thursday night at 9 o'clock.

The Glria Dramatic Club met Thursday night.

Six weeks' examinations were held this week. Report cards will be given out next Tuesday.

Total profit .....$4.93
Paid self for labor.....16.43

My net income from project $21.36 From my project I have obtained much more than the above statement would indicate. My class room work has been more vivid through experience. I now realize that many of my losses have resulted from the lack of knowledge of sheep and their diseases. Due to my project I have gained much information outside of school. I have met many experienced sheep breeders, and have learned something from most of them.

The training which I have received has broadened my knowledge of agriculture and has given me keener interest in agriculture as a vocation.

Next fall I intend to enter the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois. This will necessitate the selling of my flock for funds to meet educational expenses.

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 12.

The Golden Text was, "Turn thou to thy God; keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually" (Hosea 12:6).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead" (Romans 1:20).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "That which material sense calls tangible, is found to be substance. What to material sense seems substance, becomes nothingness, as the sense-dream vanishes and reality appears" (p. 312).

Felters Get Letters From Former Residents

Among the letters of congratulation on their golden wedding anniversary received by the A. J. Felters, were the following two letters from I. W. Boylan and Sherman B. Orwig, of Chicago, both former Antioch residents.

Chicago, Ill.
Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Felter
Antioch, Ill.

Dear Felers:
Through the medium of the dear old Antioch News, to which I am still a subscriber, I learned that you have recently celebrated your Golden Wedding—a privilege accorded to few. As I read the account of it, it occurred to me that, slightly modified, the address by Daniel Webster to the survivors of the Battle of Bunker Hill at the laying of the cornerstone of the Bunker Hill Monument, might very nicely be applied to your case. (If you have forgotten it, Mrs. Felter, it appears somewhere in Appleton's Fifth Reader.) And my modification of it would make it read something like this:

"Ad and Maggie—you have come down to us from a former generation. Heaven has bounteously lengthened out your lives that you might enjoy this wonderful event. The same heavens are indeed over our heads; the waters of the same Lake Catherine wash the edge of your old farm but all else has changed! You see no processions of farmers' horse drawn wagons winding their ways to the Wilmet Mill to have their wheat ground into flour; now they merely call the bakery by telephone and order a loaf of bread delivered for lunch. You no longer illuminate your home with the dim, flickering, smoky, kerosene lamp. You now press a button and instantly the entire house is flooded with a light that puts 'Old Sol' to shame. And when Saturday night comes, it is no longer necessary to make a trip to the lake or place the family wash tub in front of the kitchen stove. And so on, and so on, and so on."

There is considerable difference in our ages and when I lived in Antioch, we were not very closely associated. To me, "Ad" Felter was just a man who always spoke kindly to little boys and owned a milk wagon of identical the same make as one my father had. So his judgment in this respect must have been good. And Mrs. Felter was either Ad Felter's wife or Frank Guggen's sister, just whichever way you wanted to put it. But in any event I extend to you my heartfelt congratulations and may you both live to celebrate your Diamond Anniversary.

Sincerely,
Ira W. Boylan.

Chicago, Ill.
Mr. and Mrs. Addison Felter
Antioch, Ill.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Felter:
You will, no doubt, be surprised to hear from me as you have probably forgotten me long ago, but I have never forgotten the pleasant time I spent at your home in company with Mr. Frank Winds in the winter of 1904 and 1905, at which time we were engaged in some survey work in connection with the Knickerbocker Ice Company on the Lakes there.

Several years ago, my old friend Ira Boylan told me that he was an Antioch "product" and that he was acquainted with you. He recently sent me a clipping from the Antioch paper calling attention to the celebration of your golden wedding anniversary, and I should like to add my congratulations, although late, to the many you have received.

Please accept my heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for many more years of happiness together.

Yours very truly,
Sherman B. Orwig.

The State Bank is open to make change, admit patrons to their safety deposit boxes, deliver bills of lading for feed, and receive gold to be turned over to the United States Treasury.

Receives Gold
Many thousands in gold and gold currency have been turned in at the First National Bank during the past two days, according to Mr. Nelson. A sum of $2,000 has been received by the State Bank. Both Mr. Nelson and Mr. Ziegler said the gold was being turned over in small amounts by loyal citizens rather than hoarders.

Suma of gold received at the State Bank ranged from $2.50 to $275. Three fourths turned in was in gold and the other fourth in gold certificates.

Drive Against Hoarders
A drive to apprehend hoarders with a possible penalty attached to the act, is being made by the Federal government. Bankers throughout the country received orders to report all hoarders. The wire received by S. B. Nelson of the First National Bank from the government is published below:

Cost of Feed Important in Chick Raising

College experiment stations some time ago announced that the protein combination within a feed makes a difference, not only in results shown in chicks, but also in cost of their raising. Chicks of the same breeding, when fed mash of the same analysis, but containing various blends of proteins on which the mash is built, may show a difference of as much as 41% in their feed cost for the first six weeks.

"In feeds, as in everything else, it is a matter of efficiency," says Mr. E.

B. Powell, Manager of Purina Mills Experimental Farm.
"Everything has to be taken into consideration in constructing a really good chick mash. The effect of the feed on the livability of the chicks, on the rapidity of growth, on their feathering, pigmentation, bone and flesh development, are all important. Yet, unless we take into consideration the egg laying ability of the pullet grown by the mash the feeder will lose money."

One set of experiments, continued for several years on twenty different feeds, involved the checking of over 300,000 separate weighings of baby chicks and hens. The worthwhile results in terms of money that might be saved per chick in a year by the accompanying chart. Differences in cost of as much as $1.10 per pound in producing baby chicks means many dollars for a poultry owner who is figuring his success for the year in terms of hundreds or thousands of chickens.

The first six weeks are only the beginning of his poultry flock. From that time on special growing feeds must supply energy, bone and muscle building materials which will bring the pullets into laying with full body development, and at five months of age; and at the same time put broilers on the market at the earliest possible date. Neither a high price nor the lag on the lag point out which is the best feed. The answer to that question lies within the feed itself. Poultry feeds above all others need the expert attention that only experience can supply. They must be selected with full knowledge as to source of nutrients. The proportioning of these nutrients is a question of careful manufacture. Only thus is built a feed that, while getting results, sells at a price sufficiently reasonable to be profitable to the poultryman.

Hundreds of MEN are helping wash these clothes...

IN THE OLD DAYS women washed alone. Every week they spent arduous hours bent over a washboard, scrubbing dirt loose from grimy clothes... twisting out rinse water with arms that ached.

But modern wash-days are different. Home laundries are now equipped with electric washing machines that hum as they work. A switch is snapped—and clothes are quickly swished clean in hot sudsy water that hands hardly have to touch. Another switch starts a motor-driven wringer to turning! Washing isn't a day-long ordeal any more. It's easy to have everything out blowing on the line in two short hours.

SPECIAL DURING MARCH

We're featuring two outstanding washing machine values this month—the new Colono and the new Thor. Both have firm-but-gentle agitator action, modern swinglog wringers, easy-to-clean enamel tubs and many other features. Specially priced during March at only $49.50 $2.50 down and $4.20 a month—cash, only.

AT PUBLIC SERVICE STORES AND OTHER LOCAL DEALERS

"Behind the scenes" of this modern home laundry is an interesting picture. Actually, hundreds of men are helping with the washing. A complicated system of service is operating. Conveyors are feeding tons of crushed coal into boilers. Powerful turbines are roaring. Miles of copper wire, deep underground and high overhead, are alive with electricity. Turn a switch any time, day or night, and this electricity goes instantly to work for you.

In the average home in northern Illinois it costs just a fraction over a cent to run a washing machine for an hour. And electricity speeds through other once-tedious chores just as economically—sweeps carpets for less than a penny an hour—irons clothes for less than a nickel an hour. It toasts bread, bakes waffles, heats chilly corners, brings bright cheerful light to every room for a trifling sum.

In spite of the great variety of uses to which it is put in every home, the cost of this electric service is only a small portion of your family budget. Have you ever tried to figure where else you can get more comfort and convenience?

J. R. Cribb is serving on the petit jury at Waukegan this week.

President Herman Bock is the boss gardener and on Saturday last had on exhibition a parsnip that measured eighteen inches in circumference and tipped the scales at four pounds.

Farm hands are more plentiful this year than usual in the spring and there will be enough men for farmers in this vicinity. The reduction in the force of men in the factories and the scarcity of work in the cities caused the change. The wage scale is about the same as formerly and farm laborers are receiving all the way from $20 to $30 a month, varying with the amount of work and the location.

The brick work on L. B. Grice's business on Main St. was commenced on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Drom and Mrs. Havens of Trevor attended the wedding of Miss Beulah Drom and Clarence Downs of Harvard in Chicago Wednesday.

There were but thirty-five votes cast at the village primary election on Tuesday. Of this number thirteen were thrown out because the voter failed to put an "X" in front of the name he had written on the ballot. The following is the way the votes were distributed:

At the regular meeting of the fire department, Tuesday, the committee on the truck reported that after careful investigation over the last few months, visiting several cities and plants, it would recommend the Stoughton Community Pumper. The truck is one of the most completely equipped fire outfits for cities of the size of Antioch. Delivery is to be made in about sixty days.

Antioch witnessed the most severe storm in recent years on Sunday night. Shortly before nine o'clock a blinding snow swept by a terrific wind soon had the ground covered with a blanket of snow. The electric light service was completely cut off and telephone connections were severed shortly before midnight.

Georgia Bacon was absent on Friday of last week on account of breaking two of her ribs.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hawkins celebrated their second anniversary this week.

The village primary on Tuesday was about as dull and colorless an affair as could be imagined. There was only one ticket in the field and lack of opposition was responsible for the lack of interest.

On the ticket were the names of William Roseng, George Hockney, and A. M. Christensen for trustees to succeed Elmer Brook, N. Pullen and B. F. Naber. The name of H. A. Isaacs appeared for village clerk and that of E. L. Simons for treasurer.

The Fox River region will be transformed into one of the finest resort localities in the west when plans of the Fox River Improvement Association organized Monday night at the Great Northern hotel in Chicago are realized.

The river will be dragged and wooded for eight miles between the German village and the dam three miles from McHenry, giving a passage for boats of three feet draft in a stream over 600 feet wide. Through Plainfield and other lakes this water course will extend more than twenty-five miles.

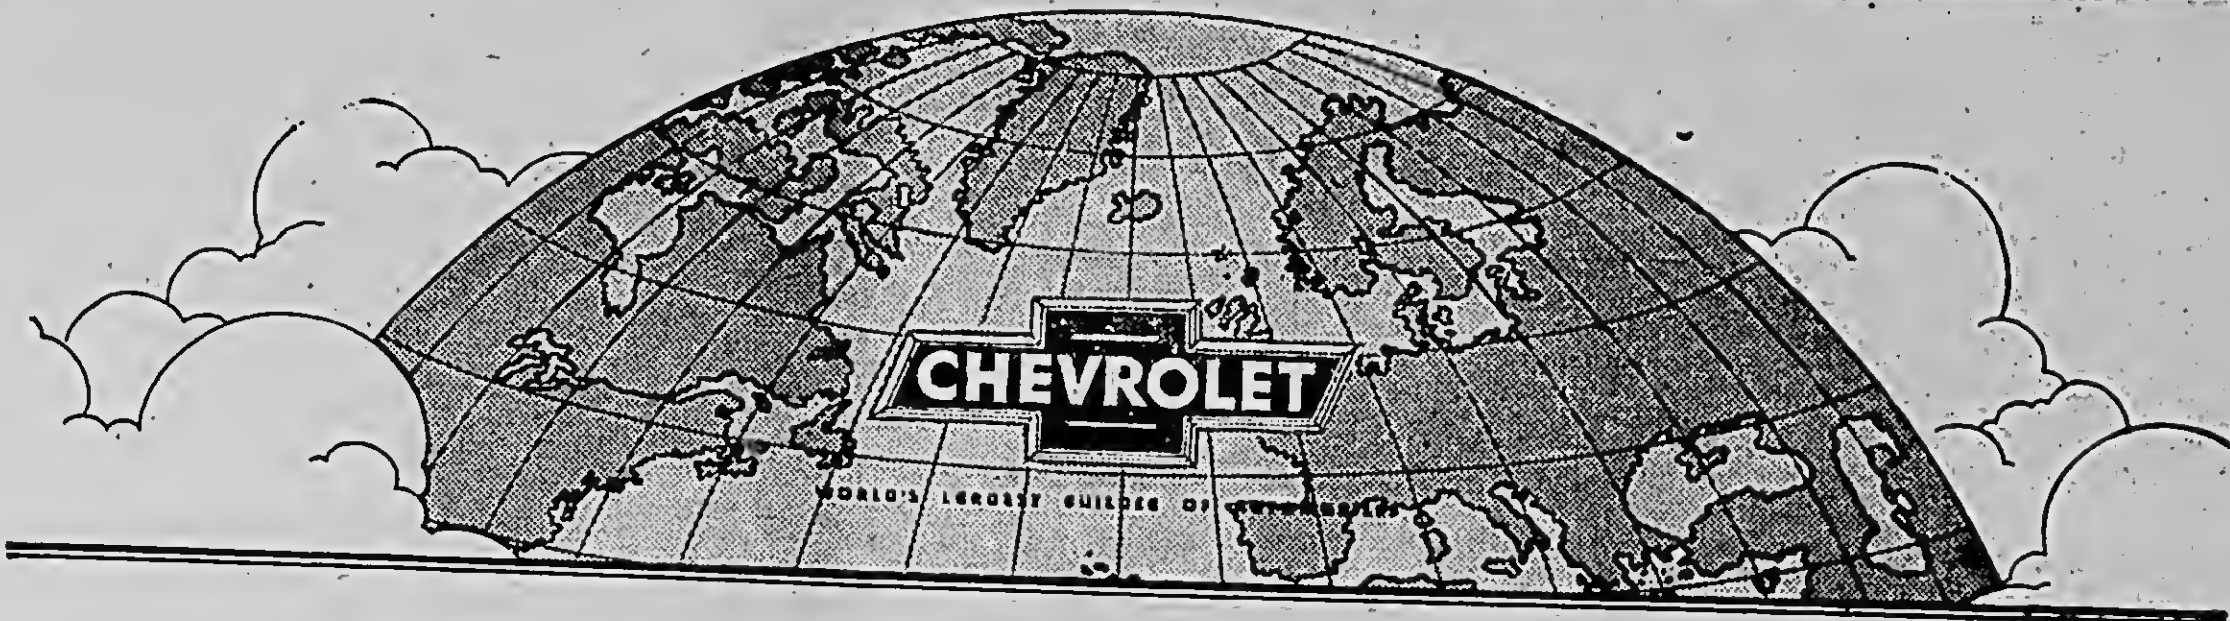

The Antioch Commercial Association

tion Band will give a mask ball at the Antioch opera house on Monday evening, Mar. 18. Music by Morrell's jazz orchestra. Stang, a costumer from Burlington will be here in the afternoon and evening with a full line of costumes. No one allowed in dance without a mask before eleven o'clock.

HintsVegetables and Spring Salads Keep Remedy
On Shelf Without Overstepping BudgetsRecipes for Tonic Dishes
Suggested for This Time of Year

The time is at hand when, several decades ago, father brought down the euphoric and administered it, mixed with molasses, in teaspoon doses despite the protests of his offspring. That was in the day when these first deliciously mild spring winds brought rivers of apprehension in their wake.

Modern dieticians and doctors put no remedy for father's ailment in a formula diet loaded with green vegetables and fresh fruits. Whether or no their remedy for toning up the system is more effective than the sulphur and molasses, it certainly is more palatable.

Putting fresh vegetables and fruits, frequently and with variety, into the early spring menu offers a serious problem for the housewife, especially if she is trying to keep her food costs within the budget. On first thought, she will say it can't be done, but it can.

Until one studies the matter for several moments, the present market seems singularly barren of anything in the line of vegetables and fruits outside of cans. True, it doesn't offer the variety one finds in July and August or even the fall months, but there are enough seasonable green foods at this time of the year to keep the menu tempting to the worst spring fever victim.

Seasonable Vegetables
Cabbage, onions, carrots, spinach, apples, oranges, grapefruit, bananas, rhubarb, celery and head lettuce can be obtained on the market at the present time at budget prices even though some are not in season. In a few weeks parsnips and peas and then asparagus and tomatoes will be added to the list. Tomatoes can be procured at present, but at a cost of around ten cents a pound, they are not for the carefully budgeted menu.

Cooked fresh vegetables always have a place in the well balanced diet, but salads using raw fruits and vegetables supply a need which is more often overlooked than the necessity for cooked vegetables. Cabbage and carrots are the cheapest salad vegetables, with lettuce little higher in cost. Apples and bananas, priced at 5 to 6 cents a pound make inexpensive salad food also.

Salads like other foods must be varied from day to day and with a few basic ingredients to select from, the matter of variety requires some degree of ingenuity. To begin with the lowly cabbage, here are several suggestions for serving it in salads.

Cabbage and Pineapple

Grate or shred cabbage with a knife then add for flavoring two slices pineapple sliced and a few finely cut marshmallows if desired. Mix with the usual salad dressing thinned with a little cream or milk. This salad will become watery if it is allowed to stand. Suggested substitutes for the pineapple are onions and green pepper.

Cole Slaw

Shred the cabbage, add vinegar, and pepper and salt. Allow to stand for fifteen minutes, then drain the vinegar and serve. This dish is extremely palatable with beef.

Cabbage in Gelatin

To lemon or flavorless gelatin, add shredded cabbage, finely chopped carrots, and if desired, a ground sour pickle. Canned peas may also be added, keeping the proportion of the latter smaller than the proportions of the carrots and cabbage.

Carrots ground and mixed with shredded cabbage and mayonnaise, make an attractive as well as appetizing salad. A salad made of ground carrots and pennants placed on a lettuce leaf, will probably appeal to the children. This is best served at a meatless meal.

Carrot and Cabbage Salad

Grate two cups of cabbage finely and three carrots. Mix lightly with a fork and serve with the following dressing:

1/4 cup sugar,
1/4 teaspoon salt,
1/4 cup vinegar,
1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Lettuce Salads

Head lettuce can be served as an accompaniment to other salads or as the base of the salad with any number of salad dressings. An excellent dressing is made by thinning the mayonnaise and adding to a cupful, the following ingredients:

1 tablespoon chili sauce,
1 finely chopped hard boiled egg,
1 small chopped onion

Dressings flavored with Roquefort cheese and French dressing are also excellent on lettuce salads.

Fruit salads are more widely popular than any other type with children, and for that reason should be frequently included on the menu. A simple fruit salad is made of apples, bananas, and oranges sliced together. The fruits may be served with a small amount of powdered sugar to sweeten the juice or with a cooked or mayonnaise dressing.

Suggestions for other fruit salads are listed below:

Grapefruit

Carefully remove the meat of the grapefruit sections, placing four or five sections on a leaf of lettuce. Garnish with French dressing.

Waldorf Salad

Peel and cut apples in sections adding small slices of celery and walnuts or pecans. Mix with dressing.

Fruit Gelatin

Any fruit may be used in a fruit gelatin salad except apples. Dried fruits which have first been washed and soaked in water, may be added to combinations of the available fresh fruits on the market.

Dieticians at this time of the year stress the necessity for at least one raw vegetable in every day's menu and two cooked, not including po-atoes. Cabbage, carrots, onions, and spinach are fresh vegetables easily obtainable at almost any store, and they can be creamed, or boiled and served in a number of different ways.

Stuffed Head of Cabbage

This recipe for cabbage found in a recently published book of recipes can be counted on as being new to the cookbooks of most Antioch women. The method of preparation is as follows:

1 head of cabbage (about 3 pounds)
1 cup bread crumbs
2 cups of any left over meats or hamburger

1/2 cup milk or water

Seasoning.

Follow cabbage to form a shell. Mix ingredients and stuff cabbage. Fill about three-fourth full. Tie in cheesecloth and steam 40 minutes or drop in boiling water until tender. The cabbage from the center may be utilized in salad at another meal.

Scalloped Onions

Select small onions, peel and cook

in salted water until tender. Drain and place in baking dish. Over these pour a cream sauce. Sprinkle crumbs over top and bake until brown.

Rhubarb, which is so generally approved as a spring tonic, may be served as a sauce for breakfast or any other meal and as the fruit for a shortcake or filling for a pie. Very little water should be added to rhubarb being cooked for shortcake. The usual shortcake recipe can be used for the biscuits.

Cooking with an eye to keeping the budget down and giving one's family the needed minerals and vitamins, can be an adventure if one has a family which welcomes new dishes. If not, the task loses a little of its joy. On either hand, keeping an eye out for spring salads and new ways of presenting vegetables to the family board will simplify the task and keep the sulphur and molasses on the shelf this spring.

Rev. Fred Guller of Waukegan, who with his wife spent three years in the Hawaiian Islands, gave an illustrated lecture at the church Sunday evening, showing slides made from pictures they took while Mr. Guller was in charge of boys' work there in the islands. He made it very clear and interesting and Mrs. Guller showed several articles of apparel and utensils in common use and also explained them and the customs and habits of the people who live there. They gave a very good entertainment, and we hope to see them again.

510 Attend Grayslake Homemakers' Meeting

That Lake County women are interested in studying the problems of the homemaker was evidenced by the attendance of 510 members at the first annual meeting of Lake County Home Bureau, held at the Methodist Church in Grayslake last week-end.

Emphasis was placed on the study of the economic situation in the home. Mrs. Kathryn Van Aken Burps, state leader of home economics extension, stated that education in home economics is particularly necessary in this day of stress.

Another service which makes Home Bureau an asset is its contribution to the physical and mental health of the family and community, according to Mrs. Burns.

Mrs. Homer Johnson of Danvers, former president of the state federation of home bureaus, emphasized the responsibility of the homemaker to the family and the community.

Mrs. Johnson pointed out that complex methods of living place far greater responsibility upon the homemaker of today than on the homemaker of 100 years ago.

At the business session the following county officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. Herman Stohr, Waukegan; vice chairman, Mrs. Earl Kane, Diamond Lake; secretary, Mrs. Emmett Kling, Hickory; treasurer, Mrs. Earl Barron, Grayslake. Directors: Mrs. Lewis Mills, Diamond Lake; Mrs. Elbert Elsbury, Grayslake; Mrs. Albert Stahl, Prairie View; Mrs. William Dillman, Volo; Mrs. Stella Strobach, Cuba.

hostess served at the close of the afternoon.

Churchill of Grayslake gave a very interesting talk on "Americanization" after the routine business was transacted. No meeting had been held in February because of the severe snow-storm so this was combined with the March meeting. The hostess committee of which Mrs. Gladieh is chairman, served chicken salad, cake and coffee, to the seventy members and guests present.
